$700 Contribution.

The meeting Tuesday evening was called to order by Mayor Carey, who announced that in addition to contributions previously reported toward the fund the Volunteer Aid Committee was raising the policemen and paid firemen of the city would contribute some $700 and in addition, if the committee wished, the policemen would arrange a ball game between the Kingston and Newburgh police departments, proceeds to go toward the fund.

There was hearty applause at the announcement of this generous action on the part of the firemen and police and later offer of the police department to put on a benefit ball game was accepted with thanks. It was also announced that the New York Telephone Co. would contribute $100 to the fund.

Much of the discussion of the evening entered on the question as to the amount of money that should be asked for and the procedure that should be followed to secure it.

Alfred Schmidt, head of the Board of Public Welfare, stated that during the past ten months $3,700 had been spent for clothing and shoes. He said that it was difficult to get used shoes for children as very few second-hand shoes turned in were fit for school wear. He suggested that as much as $5,000 would be needed for this item alone. The office that was conducted last year for receiving and renovating used clothing had saved the taxpayers a great deal of money, but there were many articles that must be purchased new.

Senator Wicks Present.

Mayor Carey suggested the use of the organizations in the various election districts in soliciting. Senator Wicks agreed that the men might be of great assistance in this work and suggested that the first appeals be made to those who were employed and that the shops and stores should be canvassed.

May Not Decide On Walker For Month

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—John F. Curry, leader of Tammany Hall, indicated today that decision on whether James J. Walker will be Tammany's candidate, should there be a special majority election this fall, may be delayed for more than a month.

Asked when a decision might be expected on whether former Mayor Walker will be nominated for the office from which he resigned last week, Curry replied that it was his understanding that the nominations did not have to be made before October 15.

Connecticut G. O. P. Votes For Repeal

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 7 (AP)—Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and immediate modification of the Volstead Act was endorsed today by the resolutions committee for presentation to the Republican State Convention.

The prohibition plank also recommended the return to the states of "the power to regulate, control or, if they will, prohibit the liquor traffic, leaving each state free to adapt its solution of the liquor problem to the public sentiment of its citizens and to the conditions prevailing within its border."

United States Senator Hiram Bingham was commended "for his efforts for repeal in the Chicago convention and for his subsequent activities in the Senate which put to the acid test the sincerity of the professions of the Democrats."

The committee also recommended such revision of the state enforcement act to make possible "automatic adjustment" with any future change which may be made in the federal prohibition laws.

The report commended the administration of President Hoover, saying, in part:

"Through many months of depression, he has proved himself courageous, patient, understanding and unwaveringly faithful to the American people. His retention in the White House is imperative to insure our return to normal times."

Bad Check Artist Given Sixty Days

Pled Guilty to Three Separate Bad Check Charges in Police Court—Van Steenburgh Was Intoxicated—Another Shot Machine Case—Other Cases.

William Rogers, who said he roomed on Delaware avenue, near Broadway, this morning in police court pled guilty to three separate bad check charges, and was sentenced to 20 days in the county jail on each charge. Rogers had just completed serving a five-day sentence for public intoxication.

Rogers told Judge Callout that he would "plead guilty while intoxicated." He claimed that the four checks had been given him by strangers and that he had cashed them.

Clarence S. Thorn of Clintondale was arrested Tuesday on a warrant sworn out by Frank L. Brown who charged Thorn with giving him a bad check for $4.54. Thorn furnished bail in the sum of $100 for his appearance in police court on Friday morning.

Fred Van Steenburgh of 16 Ann street became intoxicated on Tuesday and that afternoon he knocked in the window in the kitchen door of the home of his neighbor, Mrs. Ethel Delaney. Van Steenburgh was arrested by Officer Burger and this morning when arraigned before Judge Callout in police court he pled guilty and was sentenced to 10 days in jail.

Joseph Farrell of Broadway, one of the men arrested in the slot machine raids recently, changed his plea of not guilty to one of guilty on Tuesday afternoon and was fined $5. No machine was found in his place when the police started the raids.

Several other slot machine cases are slated for trial Thursday in police court.

Frank R. Powley Died Suddenly At Tarrytown

For Years He Had Been One of Leading Figures in the Religious and Business Life of Kingston—Brief Sketch of His Busy Life.

Frank R. Powley, for years one of the leaders in the religious and business life of Kingston, died suddenly about 6 o'clock this morning at the home of his wife's sister, Mrs. Walter Nickerson, at Tarrytown, aged 72 years. Mr. and Mrs. Powley had left Kingston on Tuesday for New York city where Mr. Powley had an appointment with a physician this morning. They spent the night at the home of Mrs. Nickerson, planning to proceed to New York city this morning. Mr. Powley is survived by his wife, who before marriage was Miss Anna Reddy of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Henry M. Crane, of this city.

Mr. Powley was born on Abell street in 1860, and after finishing his education in the public schools he was employed for a time as clerk in the Rondout postoffice. From 1880 to 1900 he was engaged in the hardware business as bookkeeper for the firm of Sahler, Reynolds and Webster, and for a time with J. T. Johnson, the Strand hardware dealer.

Organized Coal Company.

In 1901 he helped to organize the Kingston Coal Company, the leading retail coal dealers of Kingston, and the North River Coal Company, wholesale dealers. For years he served the Kingston Coal Company as its president and treasurer, and as secretary of the North River Coal Company.

About 25 years ago he and his wife removed to Ridgewood, N. Y., while he devoted his attention to the affairs of the office of the North River Coal Company in New York city. Later he removed back to Kingston and continued active in the business of both coal companies until several years ago when he disposed of his interests in both companies to devote himself to banking. He was second vice president of the Kingston Trust Co. and his desk in the Central Branch of the Trust Company on Central Broadway.

Active in Business.

Mr. Powley was very active in the business life of Kingston and was one of the organizers of the Governor Clinton Hotel, serving as treasurer of the local organization which promoted the hotel. The past few years he and his wife have been occupying a suite of rooms at the hotel in which he took so active a part.

For years business men of Kingston had talked of the need of a new and modern hotel for this city, and finally a group of leading men of which Mr. Powley was one, got together and helped put the project across.

Mr. Powley was also well known for his philanthropic deeds, and during the years he had been a resident of Kingston he had assisted many people he found in financial need. He was also a contributor to every worthy cause, and always took an active interest in the local Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Powley was an active member of the Rondout Presbyterian Church, contributing both of his time and money in unstinted measure. At the time of his death he was serving the church as an elder. Mr. Powley was also active in the Bible School of the church and taught a large class of men each Sunday morning. Failing health caused him to give up his duties as teacher of the class several months ago. Mr. Powley was one of the religious leaders of the city, and his unswerving loyalty to his church was known to all.

Was Outstanding Citizen.

In the death of Mr. Powley the city has lost one of its outstanding citizens, a man who could always be depended upon to give not only of his time but of his means to aid any worthy cause that needed assistance. As a business man he was known for his keen grasp of business affairs and the successful management of the business in which he was interested. As a church man he was a leader in the religious life of the city.

Mr. Powley's sudden death will leave a gap not only in the religious life but the business life of the city which will be hard to fill. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

SCHENCK NOT CONNECTED TO LINDBERGH KIDNAPING.

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the justice department's bureau of investigation, said today a federal inquiry had disclosed no connection between the kidnaping of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., and Garrett Schenck, Hopewell, N. J., fish peddler.

Schenck claimed he was held a prisoner in a mountain cabin near Johnstown, Pa., for 75 days by a private investigator in the Lindbergh case, before Johnstown police effected his release.

"We are withdrawing from the Schenck case because our agents have found no federal law violated, either by Schenck or by those accused of kidnaping him," Hoover said.

Toughman Is Sentenced.

Leland Tompkins, 36, of Hurley, was arrested by Trooper Coons Tuesday on a charge of beating his wife and committed to the Ulster county jail. He was given a hearing this morning before Justice Minard Elmdale but the Mexican villagers of Capote, Sandoval, and several others were flooded.

$355,000 In City Bonds Bring Par At Public Sale

Phelps, Fenn & Company, New York Bonding House, Bid 1.20 Per Cent Interest on Bond Issue—Six Sealed Bids Were Received.

City Treasurer James H. Betts sold $355,000 in city bonds at public sale at the city hall this noon when six sealed bids received from six New York city bonding houses were opened. All the bids received had to be sealed. None of the local banks bid on the bond issue or had representatives present at the sale.

Five of the bonding houses were represented at the sale, but the successful bidder was not represented. Under the terms of the sale the bidders were requested to submit the amount of interest the bonds were to bear. When the bond issue was authorized by the Common Council it was with the understanding that the rate of interest was not to exceed 6 per cent.

The bidders and their bids were: Phelps, Fenn & Company, par with interest at 4.20 per cent; B. J. Van Ingen & Company, Inc., 100.132 and 4.25 per cent interest; Barry Brothers & Company, Inc., 97.9 and interest at 4.50 per cent; Batchelder & Company, Inc., and 4.40 per cent interest; Roosevelt & Son, at par with 5 per cent interest.

Lehman Brothers, 100.119 with 4.40 per cent interest.

The successful bidder, Phelps, Fenn & Company, had substituted a sealed bid of par with 4.25 per cent interest, and before the sale started sent a telegram amending the bid to par with 4.20 per cent interest.

The representative of Van Ingen & Company, the next lowest bidder, raised the point as to whether it was legal for the city treasurer to accept a change in bid by telegram.

To settle the question Mr. Betts got in touch with Hawkins, Deland and Longfellow, the law firm of New York city, that had passed on the legality of the bond issue and was informed that the bid of Phelps, Fenn & Company was legal and could be accepted.

City Treasurer Betts stated that the bid of Phelps, Fenn & Company of par with an interest rate of 4.20 per cent would be accepted.

Mrs. Vallee Finds She Loves Her Husband

Reno, Nev., Sept. 7 (AP)—There will be no divorce for the Rudy Vallees, the former Fay Webb, actress wife of the crooning radio singer, said here today.

"It was all a mistake," Mrs. Vallee said. "I love my husband and always have loved him. I am leaving at noon for Santa Monica and will join Rudy later in New York. I'm so happy."

The startling turn came as Mrs. Vallee was believed to be preparing to establish divorce residence here. A sudden realization that her separation from Vallee was all the result of a "childish and foolish quarrel" coupled with a midnight telephone conversation with the radio singer and orchestra leader in Atlantic City, was responsible for the change in plans.

"I know now that I was just a little fool to even think of a divorce," Mrs. Vallee confessed. "Rudy never wanted one, although he was just a perfect dear and told me that if I thought a divorce was best, why that was what I should get. But I was wrong and we love each other more than ever now. We both admitted that last night."

Walter A. Halvick, 23, of Lake Katrine, was brought to the Ulster county jail Tuesday by Trooper Coons, charged with disorderly conduct. He was to have a hearing this morning before Justice Walter Webster.

Conflicting Stories Of Events Preceding Death Of Paul Bern

Los Angeles, Sept. 7 (AP)—Conflicting stories of weekend events which preceded the discovery of the body of Paul Bern, film producer and husband of Jean Harlow, platinum blonde screen star, confused police investigation of the apparent suicide today.

David A. Davidson, head of the police homicide squad, said he was satisfied with the progress his men have made in the case and, pending the inquest Thursday, he again would question the domestic help of the producer. The inspector of detectives said the servants' accounts differ as to the events of last Saturday and Sunday.

The uncorroborated body of Bern, 42, was found by John Carmichael, helper, Sunday in the dressing room of his home. A pistol, one cartridge disintegrated, was crumpled in Bern's right hand and a bullet wound was in the head. A note signed "Paul," addressed to "Dearest dear" and containing a "fragmentary" lay near a picture of Miss Harlow.

Carmichael said the producer, dining with Miss Harlow, his bride of two months, Saturday evening, had told him, Sunday, that he had been told by police his employer left the film studios in Culver city and drove to the Ambassador Hotel a few minutes after 6 p. m. Garrison further said Miss Harlow was at the home of her mother both Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Miss Harlow was questioned by police last night after they had been forced to wait for more than 24 hours, due to her hysterical condition.

"I can't understand why this terrible thing should have happened," she said. "As for the note left by Paul, I have no idea what it means. This 'fragmentary' note he apparently believed he had done me in all a mystery. I can't imagine what it means."

Paul often talked to me of suicide as a general topic, but never once did he intimate that he himself contemplated such an act. There was nothing between us that I can think of that would have caused him to do this."

Understands Motive.

A cryptic telegram to Louis B. Mayer, general manager of the film studios where Bern was associate producer, from Dr. Ed B. Jones, Bern's personal physician, now in Honolulu, only added to the mystery of the case. It read:

"Understand motive. Will leave at once to testify for you and Miss Harlow if necessary."

Miss Harlow, hysterical and delirious at the time, attempted to throw herself from a small balcony within the home of her mother yesterday afternoon. She was restrained by friends. The balcony is more than ten feet from the ground.

Corner Frank A. Nanes set the inquest for 10 a. m. Thursday, and said one of the principal lines of inquiry would be to determine why, when Bern's body was found shortly after 11 a. m. Monday, the authorities were not notified until nearly three hours later.

Bern's death was due to a typical "suicide wound," Frank R. Webb, autopsy surgeon, reported, with indication the gun had been held close to the right temple.

Police sought an explanation of a car that drove away from the vicinity of the secluded Bern home about 3 a. m. Monday. The incident was reported to police by S. Vorkapich, a film director, living nearby.

RELIEVE PAUL BERN DID NOT LEAVE WILL.

Los Angeles, Sept. 7 (AP)—R. D. Knickerbocker, attorney for the late Paul Bern, said as far as he knew will was left by the film producer.

In that event, his widow, Jean Harlow of the films, will receive half of the estate and the other half will go to blood relatives.

Friends intimated today the estate of Bern will not be large as he was reported to have lost heavily in the stock market crash of 1929 and to have spent large sums of money in philanthropies.

Manufacturing Co. Building Received No Bids At Auction

Machinery And Materials Purchased By Number of Persons—Factory Building Mortgaged For $15,000.

The factory building at Hudson Avenue and Mill streets occupied during the World War by the Herbert Brush Company and lately by the Glens Falls Manufacturing Company which made card tables was not bid in by anyone at the auction sale this morning. Not even an offer was made when Mr. Harrows of the Industrial Plants Corporation of New York city, sponsors of the sale, announced that a first mortgage of $15,000 was held on the property by Frank L. Shappee of New York.

The offer to sell the property was made after hundreds of men had gone through the building, from 10:30 a. m. to 1:20 this afternoon buying at auction the machinery and other materials left by the Glens Falls Manufacturing Company when it vacated the building. The concern bought here by the Chamber of Commerce, only a few months ago, had closed down.

Biggest buyers at the auction were Abel Abernethy of the Colonial City Chevrolet, R. Millens and John Hillebrand of this city and A. Zipser of Fleischmanns and New York city. One prospective purchaser estimated the sale price of the factory at $35,000. He did not bid, however, after learning of the $15,000 mortgage.

Banks Appeal Decision.

Corporation Counsel Chris J. Flanagan wrote the council that he has just received notices of appeal from Judge Staley's decision in the five actions brought by the five local banks against the city. The city is the defendant in all five actions and the interests of the city would be protected, wrote Mr. Flanagan, and he would report further to the council after the appeals had been decided.

The actions arose from the fact that the present city administration has refused to honor certificates of indebtedness totaling $135,000 which were issued last year.

No Cooler for Committee.

The building committee reported it did not favor the purchase of any electric water-cooler at this time. A local concern had installed a cooler on the main floor of the city hall and offered to sell it to the city for something over $200. The report of the committee was approved by the council.

Alderman Haines Wondered.

During the reading of bills that had been audited by the auditing committee Alderman Haines said he wondered why the thirteen supervisors of the city were paid $12 each for approving jury lists. He knew it had been the custom for years to pay such bills.

Alderman Relyea called attention to one of the city charter sections which provided for the payment of such bills.

Alderman Haines then moved the adoption of the auditing committee's report which was unanimously adopted.

Traffic Control Report.

The traffic control committee submitted the following report which was adopted:

Your committee recommends the following:

We favor that white line be painted on Washington avenue viaduct and bridge along center to make lanes for traffic as recommended by Alderman Schoonmaker.

We favor that one automatic red and green signal facing Washington avenue traffic be installed at Washington and Hurley avenues.

We recommend that white arrow be painted at entrance and exit to and from City Hall on Broadway on pavement.

We recommend a stop sign on Bayview street at Abel.

We favor granting request of Kingston City Transportation Company to reserve from parking on the north side of Fair street 100 feet from North Front street and that corporation counsel prepare an ordinance, as when parking takes place on both sides of Fair street at this point traffic is seriously obstructed.

M. O. Auchmuty Appointed.

Mayor Eugene R. Carey filed the appointment of Milton O. Auchmuty as a member of the city zoning board. Mr. Auchmuty succeeds Judge Walter N. Gill whose term has expired.

Polling Places Designated.

The election committee submitted a list of polling places for the fall election. The polling places are the same as last year, no change being made in locations in any of the wards. The report was adopted.

Wants Short Cut Opened.

Alderman Haines called attention to the fact that residents in the second ward for years had been using a short cut through the old sharp turning ground on Albany street, but that recently a woman who lives in the house adjoining the emergency grounds had shut off the short cut by erecting a fence. He introduced a resolution that the short cut be reopened to the public. The resolution was referred to the chief of police.

Supervisors Approve Road Construction

Special Meeting Approves Walker Valley-Ellenville Highway—Work Expected to Be Begun This Fall.

At a special meeting of the board of supervisors held Tuesday evening, the board unanimously approved the construction of the Walker Valley-Ellenville highway and as soon as copies of the resolutions of Supervisor Herman A. Wells of Wawarsing have been transmitted to the State Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, bids will be solicited and in all probability the contract will be awarded in time for some work this fall. Maps, plans and specifications for the highway over the mountain have been received and have been approved by County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran as required by law.

For several months the people of Ellenville have been interesting themselves in having this piece of road completed. When it was announced that only one highway project would be taken up in a county this year due to economic conditions, Ellenville people took up the matter of having this road put on the map for immediate construction. Then the State Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, announced that in accordance with a promise made last year the New Palis-Rosendale-Kingston route would be the first taken up for construction this year. Ellenville people immediately began a movement to have their road built. Supervisor Wells of Wawarsing got behind the movement and other influential people of the locality began an intensive campaign to have this route built. Supervisor Wells has spent much time on the matter and with possibly one exception the rights of way have been secured by options at a very nominal cost. The cost of rights of way to the county will be less than $10,000 for the entire route over the mountain from Walker Valley to Ellenville village line.

When it was announced that there apparently was money on hand sufficient to construct one more state highway this year through Federal aid the Walker Valley-Ellenville road was designated. The special meeting of the board Tuesday evening was for the purpose of taking official action by resolution approving the construction, plans and authorizing the county's share of the cost of construction which will be limited to the securing of rights of way. The highway will be built and paid for either 100 per cent by the state or 100 per cent by the state and federal aid. The only cost to the county will be the rights of way.

Supervisor Wells offered a resolution requesting the construction of the route by the state. The road lies 4.72 miles in the town of Wawarsing and 1.12 miles in Shawangunk. The estimated cost of the construction, exclusive of rights of way, is $345,000. This route is known as Part 3, Pine Bush-Ellenville county highway, 5.84 miles in length. The resolution of Supervisor Wells requesting the highway was unanimously adopted as was a resolution authorizing the clerk of the board to forward a certified copy of the resolution to the state department.

Plans, maps, specifications and estimates of cost had been forwarded to the board and were on display at the meeting. These plans and specifications had already been approved by Mr. Loughran, county superintendent.

There was no other business to come before the special meeting and on motion of Supervisor Loughran, seconded by Supervisor Stanbrough, the board adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

German Ultimatum On Arms Disclosed

Foreign Minister Publishes Text of Government's Aide Memoire on France With No Arms Equality Demands.

Berlin, Sept. 7 (AP)—A German ultimatum, announcing that Germany will quit the world disarmament conference unless the powers agree to grant her equality in armaments, was before the world today. From a clear sky last night Foreign Minister Baron Konstantin Von Neurath published the text of the government's aide memoire to France, with its arms equality demands. The document was handed to the French ambassador more than a week ago.

The note also suggested "confidential talks between the French and German governments." Its publication followed shortly and suddenly a statement made at Koenigsburg by Defense Minister General Kurt Von Schleicher saying if Germany is not granted arms equality she will arm anyway.

Schleicher added that he meant what he said.

Foreign Minister Van Neurath said he published the text of the note to France to dispose of erroneous impressions that Germany was planning to arm to the pre-war standard. The aide memoire was intended to be confidential, he said, but France had seen fit to communicate it to other nations. It contained nothing surprising, as the text would show, he said, and there was no intent to throw obstacles in the path of a disarmament treaty among the nations.

"It is useless to tell us to have patience and wait for other powers to disarm in the course of time," he said, "and that equality will duly come along, too. We have been waiting more than ten years to get our claims recognized."

"The disarmament conference has come to the point where a declaration about equality no longer can be shelved. Germany no longer can be expected to submit to discrimination which is irreconcilable with the honor and security of the nation."

Contains Nine Points

Summarized, the nine points of the aide memoire propose:

1. Confidential talks between Germany and France;

2. Germany could not agree to the resolution with which the arms conference closed on July 23 promising a later agreement for arms reductions because it left open the question whether it was also applicable to Germany;

3. Equality as the fundamental point;

4. Germany always has urged that other powers disarm to Germany's status under the Versailles Treaty, but there seems no prospect of this—Germany has the same right to security as the others;

5 and 6. The application of any discriminatory provisions to Germany would mean Germany would continue to be a second class nation;

7. All categories of arms not generally forbidden must also be permitted to Germany, and she must be given special considerations, especially a special short service militia for the protection of her frontiers;

8. The French premier has emphasized the need of security for France. Germany is willing to discuss any projects serving the end of security for everybody;

9. Germany begs France to be assured of the loyal and moderate character of her intentions but adds that the question of an equal no longer can be left open.

Plan Better Roads For State Farmers

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—The problem of better roads for New York farmers again is being prepared for consideration by the legislature.

The legislative committee on farm-to-market roads announced today "with prospects of improved business" next year, it is planning to push through to completion a permanent program for early presentation to the 1933 legislature.

The committee called a public hearing for 10 a. m. E. S. T. next Monday at the Utica courthouse to obtain the views of town and county authorities, farmers' organizations and others.

Senator Henry I. Patie of Dolgeville, Republican, chairman of the committee, said one purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the farm-to-market roads bill which was passed by the last legislature but vetoed by Governor Roosevelt.

"Particularly are we anxious to get the views of the people on our recommendation that the dirt roads be improved by local officials under competent engineering supervision," said Senator Patie. The state has 60,000 miles of dirt roads.

The bill was introduced by Senator Patie and Assemblyman Walter W. Abbott of Rome, vice chairman of the committee, after a preliminary report had been made to the legislature.

Other members of the committee include: Senators Charles B. Horton of Remsen and Harry J. Palmer of Port Richmond, and Assemblymen Kenneth H. Fiske of Cobleskill, Rufus Richtmyer of Fultonville, Rhoda Fox Graves of Gouverneur and James J. Wadsworth of Genesee. Senator Palmer is the only Democratic member.

CHEVROLET

ESPECIALLY AFTER 10,000 MILES

you'll be glad you said

"SIX CYLINDERS"

No more . . . No less"

Compare a Chevrolet Six whose speedometer reads over 10,000 miles with any other low-priced car of about the same mileage. Compare bodies.
Compare chassis. Compare the way the two cars have stood up. Compare the gas and oil mileage each is getting.
You'll be surprised at what a difference there is in favor of Chevrolet.

Chevrolet's wood-and-steel Fisher body remains tight, staunch and trouble-free. Chevrolet's chassis stays rigid and solid—shows none of the ill effects of age or wear. Chevrolet's six-cylinder engine continues to purr along smoothly, quietly and dependably. And it continues to give the same all-around economy as it did when new.

The reason for this difference after 10,000 miles can be summed up in three major facts: First, Chevrolet is such a wonderfully well-built car.
Second, Chevrolet has adequate weight, unusual ruggedness and strength to withstand the effects of long, hard usage. Third, the Chevrolet engine has SIX CYLINDERS.
And SIX is the fewest number of cylinders you can have in a car, and avoid destructive vibration.

Play safe, in choosing that low-priced car of yours. Put your good money in a sure thing. Buy the automobile in which the majority of American motor car buyers have placed their faith ever since January, 1931—a new Chevrolet Six.

Peters' Pitching Enables Tailets To Defeat Caseys

Effective pitching by Phil "Waco" Peters gave the Tailets a 2-0 victory over the Caseys of Columbia in their City League game at the Athletic field Tuesday evening. The win marked the second one for the Tailets in the second half and put them on even terms with the Forst Butchers for first place.

Peters yielded only three hits, one of the scratch variety, and for the first three innings was invincible. While he was holding the Caseys to check his teammates were taking advantage of the wildness of Johnny Cullen and the ragged play of Bob Cullen. Caseys' shortstop, which, coupled with some timely hitting, enabled them to pile up a six lead.

Cullen got himself into trouble as early as the first inning and again in the second but managed to stagger through without being scored on. In the third he was not so fortunate. An error by Carpenter allowed Stumpf to reach first base and an infield out put him on second. Tomaskie drove him in with a single to left field. Then Cullen proceeded to walk the next three batters and forced in a run to give the Tailets a two-run lead.

The Tailets increased their lead by adding two more in the fourth. F. Bruhn singled and scored when Moore doubled to center field. Moore reached third on a wild pitch and registered on Cragan's outfield fly. Peters permitted his first hit of the game in the fourth inning. It was an infield hit and he should have fielded it himself. Fitzgerald was credited with the hit and when F. Bruhn let Cullen's grounder get by him two runners were on. Steigerwald hit one to L. Bruhn at third and he also let it go by him, allowing Fitzgerald to score and while Schwab was playing with the ball Cullen brought home the second run.

Four more runs in the fifth sewed up the game for the Tailets. The Caseys also scored in their half of the fifth.

Tagging Major League Bases

By The Associated Press
The Chicago Cubs are not the best road club in the National League, but there's nothing in the records to indicate they'll lose much of their present six game lead on their current eastern invasion.

The second place Pittsburgh Pirates can boast a better record on the road, but the Cubs have overcome this by a vastly superior showing at home. Chicago has played .718 ball at home and .459 on the road. The figures for Pittsburgh are .592 at home and .500 on the road. Here's how the two contenders have fared this year.

At Home

| | Won | Lost | Pct. |
|------------|-----|------|------|
| Chicago | 51 | 26 | .718 |
| Pittsburgh | 45 | 31 | .592 |

Away

| | Won | Lost | Pct. |
|------------|-----|------|------|
| Pittsburgh | 29 | 29 | .500 |
| Chicago | 28 | 33 | .459 |

The remainder of the schedule also favors the Cubs, six of whose remaining 22 games will be played at Chicago. Pittsburgh must play all of her remaining 20 games on the road.

Here's just a chance that the Pirates can pick up enough ground in the next couple of weeks to make a "crucial" series out of the four games they will play with the Cubs at Wrigley field September 20, 21 and 22.

Averill Hiss No. 31
Action in the major leagues yesterday was restricted entirely to one double header in the American League, the Cleveland Indians taking the St. Louis Browns over the hurdles twice, 4-3 and 6-0. Irving Hadley struck out seven Indians in the opener but was the victim of a three run outburst in the sixth frame. George Connally was in form in the second game and blanked the Browns with eight scattered hits. Earl Averill hit his 31st homer in this contest.

Columbia Mentor Fears Cornell Eleven

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—Little is always ready to talk about Columbia's football prospects but he'd rather you didn't mention the team Gil Doble is holding at Cornell. The very mention of the big Red eleven from Ithaca stops Columbia's coach cold.

He's ready now to tell the world that Columbia's hardest game will be with Cornell next October 29.

"I want to tell you right now," he remarks to prospective interviewers, "that when Doble said his prospects this fall were 'pretty fair' he flattered me. Ever since then I've been scared to death every time I think of that game we've got to play with his boys."

"Is that our toughest game?" Say, when Doble says things are 'pretty fair,' the other team ought to close down. They haven't got a chance. Give him any kind of good material and he'll have a football team. I know it.

Hard to Repulse Stars.

"I'm not saying we're not going to have a good team here at Columbia ourselves, but we're not going to be world-beaters or anything like the advance reports suggest. We've lost some dandy men. Even if Cliff Montgomery takes Ralph Hewitt's place where we are going to get another center like McDuffee? And where are we going to get a guard like Nohletti or an end like Endlin? We haven't got such men."

"If we can put out a team as good as last year's it will be a miracle. It certainly won't be any better. We were lucky last year and I don't think we can win as many games as we did then. It's the same story. We have a small squad and if any of our regulars get hurt it will be tough sledding taking on Cornell. Navy,

Brown, and Syracuse on Saturdays.

No Change in Style.
"I'm not doing any innovations this year and there won't be any changes in our style of play. The new rules won't affect our line play. They won't make a bit of difference to us."

And say, after a week of practice and two or three scrimmages, it has become increasingly clear to me that the rules committee, in formulating the changes, acted with a great deal more foresight than they've been credited with. The new rules undoubtedly have eliminated certain hazardous features and the changes will make 1932 football a far more game from all standpoints than the 1931 brand."

Feldman Will Defend Laurels Against Sexton

Matchmaker Carl J. "Doc" Studer announced the full card of scrums for Monday night, September 12, at the American Legion open air stadium. Broadway and West Pelly street, and from the attractiveness of the bill indications are that there will not be even standing in the big punch bowl.

In the feature Eddie Sexton, Brooklyn negro, is matched with Mike Feldman of Schenectady. This was made by "Doc" Studer on the request of Sexton who in his appearance here had the misfortune of being pitted against an opponent who refused to fight and where Bill Singer in justice to the promoters called the match "no contest."

The decision sort of humiliated Sexton, although the happening was his fault, and he implored under to put him on the next card that he might redeem himself. He who is a classier fighter desires to prove to local fans that he is not a "stalling variety." In consequence "Doc" for the match Eddie said: "Give me a chance, please. I want to give the fans their money's worth. I am out of my line. Give me a man who'll fight, will you?"

Studer asked Sexton if he would let Phil Bronson, "I'll meet anybody," said the anxious negro, "even a champion if you can get him." So "Doc" Studer immediately forgot all about Bronson and got in touch with Jackie Feldman, king of amateur middleweights in the Hudson valley and signed him to mix it with the colored ace in the feature for Monday.

In Jackie of the Fighting Feldmans, Sexton should have a real problem. The Jewish puncher is appearing in Kingston three times, showing up well on each occasion. At the Servicer last week Jackie won from a classy boy named Stanley Cooper and defeated another one than Johnny Raymond, but Kingston favorite who is rated one of the most formidable 155 pounders in this vicinity.

Feldman, who is going better than ever, comes from a family of glitters. His brother, Abe, being a very promising heavyweight. Abe is chosen by Joe Jacobs as a sparring partner for Max Schmelling when the German star was training at Green Lodge to defend his heavyweight title against Jack Sharkey.

Local fight fans likely will consider the Sexton-Feldman match one of the best jobs ever done by "Doc" Studer. They know what a terrific puncher the Schenectady Hebrew is, having seen him beat Johnny Raymond and also are familiar with the ace of Sexton who more recently it over the East Kingston star. The poor fight that marred the last round here was no fault of Sexton's, as experts are convinced, and it is that his presence on the coming 11 of fight engagements will go a long way toward packing the Legion stand.

Failure of the feature to furnish last week was due to the unwillingness of Karl Christy, a substitute, to mix it with Sexton because "he was afraid of the dynamite that the packs in every punch and of accuracy with which the negro fighter tags his opponents."

In Sexton's own words: "If you want to see a real good scrap, be at the fights Monday night."

Marcello vs. Paradise. Supporting the feature is a list of bouts that also promise plenty of angry action. In the semi-final Johnny Marcello, popular little Glaswegian, will mix it with Otis Paradise, Filipino ash from Brooklyn, who is rated as a prospective champion in the amateur division.

Last week Marcello fought a draw with the hard hitting Buddy Emerson. The match was the first in a long time, he having decided to rest a strenuous ring campaign that he had been running. He won all but three, losing them to some of the lightweights trying to fight their way to the top. Johnny Ross of Newburgh was one of the conquerors of Marcello, but the Glasco puncher came back to win twice over him, dropping the one decision.

Heavyweight Bout. In a special six rounder Charlie Marino of this city will again meet a heavyweight rival, John Law of Montreal. These two in their last meeting fought one of the bloodiest wars ever staged in Kingston. Marino got the decision, evening things with Law, who defeated him the Servicer last winter. Both fighters are out strong for the decision in the "rubber" encounter.

Dave on Card. Another bout that promises much is the four rounder between Chester Dave, "Hawbrook avenue champion," and Herbie Knight, a neighbor. This is a "grudge" affair and should show plenty of scrapping. It is also rated on a par with the main event as a box office attraction as both boys are popular. Dave has become famous as the two-time conqueror of the well-known Battling Lurie. Knight is a member of the 156th Field Artillery and counts on drawing a large turnout from that military organization.

Other four-frame tilts scheduled are: Joe Nager, Flatbush, vs. Joe Rodriguez, Brooklyn; Mickey Raymond, Flatbush, vs. Johnny Connors, Schenectady; Jack Volosky, North Rondout, vs. Bob Leger, Schenectady.

In all the card contains 34 rounds. Starting time is 8:30.

The Chicago Cubs seem a certainty, now that the Dodgers have been disposed of, to sprout down through the finish of a turbulent National League season and into the world's series with the New York Yankees.

There will be plenty of drama and glamour in the meeting of these two. Babe Ruth will be back in the classic after a lapse of three years, perhaps for the last time. Charley Grimm can clinch a place in the forefront among big league managers, while Joe McCarthy, leading the Yankees into the fray, will become the first pilot in major league history to manage pennant winners in both circuits.

Cochet Leads As Tennis Attraction

Colorful Little Frenchman Packs 'Em in at Forest Hills—Meets Van Ryn Today.

New York, Sept. 7 (AP).—Henri Cochet may or may not be the world's greatest tennis player at the moment, but there can be slight doubt the marvelous little Frenchman tops them all as a box office draw.

For three days now the big horseshoe stadium at Forest Hills has been comfortably filled with spectators and hundreds more have spilled on to the outlying courts, all having paid a pretty stiff price for the privilege of watching what was bound to be indifferent tennis in the opening rounds of the national championships.

Cochet, surrounded by an aura of semi-invincibility, has pulled most of them through the gates. Some have been there to see Ellsworth Vines, America's cannoner, but it has been noticeable that when Cochet played on the center court the stadium was filled, the other playing fields were virtually deserted. The tournament committee knowing its spectators have not yet assigned Vines to the stadium.

A Colorful Player. It is easy to understand Henri's hold on the public. He exudes color and his grace on the court is that of a dancer. Compared to some of the six-footers he faces on this side, he is a little fellow, but he has the wrists of a Dempsey. That is where he gets the speed and the accuracy in his drives. There is no great arc to his swing and he doesn't bother about the follow-through. He snaps the ball where he wants it to go, endlessly, tirelessly and usually it wins for him.

Prospects were he would need all his resources today when he encounters John Van Ryn, the steady Philadelphia, in the outstanding duel of the fourth round. The French ace was favored to win, but not by any such margin as that by which he overwhelmed Manuel Alonso yesterday. Although he prefers and excels at doubles Van Ryn can play a lot of singles when he takes the notion.

Hot Match for Vines. Things also promised to warm up today for Vines, who has loafed through two previous matches. The champion meets his old friend and doubles partner, Keith Goddard, who has beaten him frequently in lesser tournaments, and observers anticipated a hot match.

George Lott, Jr., who made his "comeback" yesterday by defeating 16-year-old Frankie Parker of Milwaukee, clay court and Canadian champion, in four sets, was up against a serious obstacle in Takeo Kuwabara, champion of Japan. Kuwabara was as steady as taxes yesterday in beating Bryan Grant, Jr., of Atlanta.

Other matches today pitted Clifford Sutter of New Orleans against H. W. (Bunny) Austin of England; Gregory Mangin of Newark against Les Stollen of Los Angeles; Wilbur Allison of Austin against Edward Avery of England; Sidney Wood, Jr., of New York against Frederick Perry of England, and Frank Shields of New York against John Giff of England.

Test for Milk. Better fat content of milk is determined by the Babcock test. A definite quantity of milk is placed with sulphuric acid in a bottle having a narrow, graduated neck. The bottle is then whirled for a few minutes in a centrifugal machine, hot water is added to bring the liquid fat into the neck of the bottle, which is then whirled a second time, and the column of fat is read off the graduated scale.

Landis To Prepare For World Series

New York, Sept. 7 (AP).—Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, is in town to make arrangements for the forthcoming world series.

The commissioner has called a meeting of representatives of the three leading clubs in each league for Friday when all details of the series will be worked out. Invitations are to be sent to the New York Yankees, Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators of the American League, and the Chicago Cubs, Pittsburgh Pirates and Brooklyn Dodgers of the National.

This Series will open this year in the ballpark of the American League champions. Betting commissioners here are offering 2 to 1 that the Yankees beat the Cubs in the series, assuming that these clubs will win the pennants in their respective leagues.

Bailey Crowned New Golf Champion

Playing steady and confident golf and aided by an inspired putter, Watson Bailey of Kingston became champion of the Woodstock Country Club on Saturday when he defeated David Reasoner of Woodstock in the final 36 holes of play by eight up and seven to play.

From the time Bailey became one up by winning the second hole of the morning round he was never led or headed by his opponent who has been the club's champion for the past two years. Reasoner frequently out drove the new champion but on the greens his customary putting skill was woefully lacking. Bailey became ten up at the third hole when he rolled the ball with a perfect approach shot from about 40 yards to the hole dropping the cup for a birdie three. Reasoner won his only hole of the first nine on the fourth. The fifth and sixth were halved, Bailey won the seventh and eighth and the ninth was halved, making Bailey three up.

After halving the 10th and 11th Bailey won the 12th, 13th and 14th making him six up. The 15th was halved and Bailey won another on the 16th making him seven up. The 17th was halved and Reasoner won the 18th leaving Bailey with a six-hole advantage at the completion of the half way mark.

During the lunch intermission it had been whispered around that the club had a new champion in the making and a large gallery greeted the players when they teed off for the second 18 holes.

During the first nine of the second round Reasoner's putter continued to misbehave while Bailey's game continued to be consistently good so that at the end of the 27th hole Bailey was eight up with nine to play, an almost insurmountable handicap for Reasoner.

In the evening the club's annual golf dinner was held at Henri's, Rock City Road, where the various trophies were presented by the president, J. H. Stagg. Bailey was awarded the championship trophy and Reasoner the runner-up prize. Miss Edna Perkins, winner of the women's championship, received an original lithograph and Mrs. R. H. Heman, as runner-up, received a sterling tray. There were 75 diners present and later they attended a dance held at the clubhouse.

Taxi Men Have Ordinance Introduced

Mrs. Ferguson Spoke. Mrs. Alice Ferguson, who was present at the meeting, was given the privilege of the floor and spoke briefly. She urged that the city and school taxes be continued and that payment of the tax be made in May and November as it would be easier for taxpayers to pay the tax at those times.

C. J. Holselman, president of the council, said that the matter was being considered by a council committee who had met with the mayor, corporation counsel and city treasurer, and that the three city officials were to submit a plan to the committee, and as soon as that was done the question would be taken up for action. He said that if some way could be found to carry out the suggestion made it would be done, but it would involve changing the city charter.

Mr. Murphy Urged Committee. Daniel J. Murphy of Spring street was given the privilege of the floor and said he wanted a committee of three appointed to investigate a certain matter to see if it could not be done. Mr. Murphy said he had been afflicted with cancer and the doctor had cured him. He urged that the committee be appointed "to place Kingston on the map." He said he had letters from the former Mayor Walker of New York and also from Governor Roosevelt and that both men were political fakirs.

President Holselman said he did not believe the council had the authority to appoint such a committee for such a purpose.

Resolutions Introduced. The following resolutions were introduced and referred to the proper committee and city boards:

By Alderman Epstein.—That all sewers in the Sixth ward be cleaned; that the water street bill be repaired; that the entrance to Water street at St. Mary's street be widened.

Alderman Epstein.—That a man sweep St. Mary's street, Newkirk avenue and Murray street daily; that Murray street between Ann and Chambers streets be repaired at once.

Hoover 'Local Boy' To Swiss 'Home Town'

"Cousins" Boast Of Kinship, Despite 232 Years Since Family Went Away

Oberkum, Switzerland, Aug.—The villagers in this peaceful little valley are watching with "bismetown" pride the campaign of President Herbert Hoover for re-election.

By all of the numerous families of Hubers here, President Hoover is regarded as a cousin—a very distant cousin, it is true, but a member of the family nevertheless.

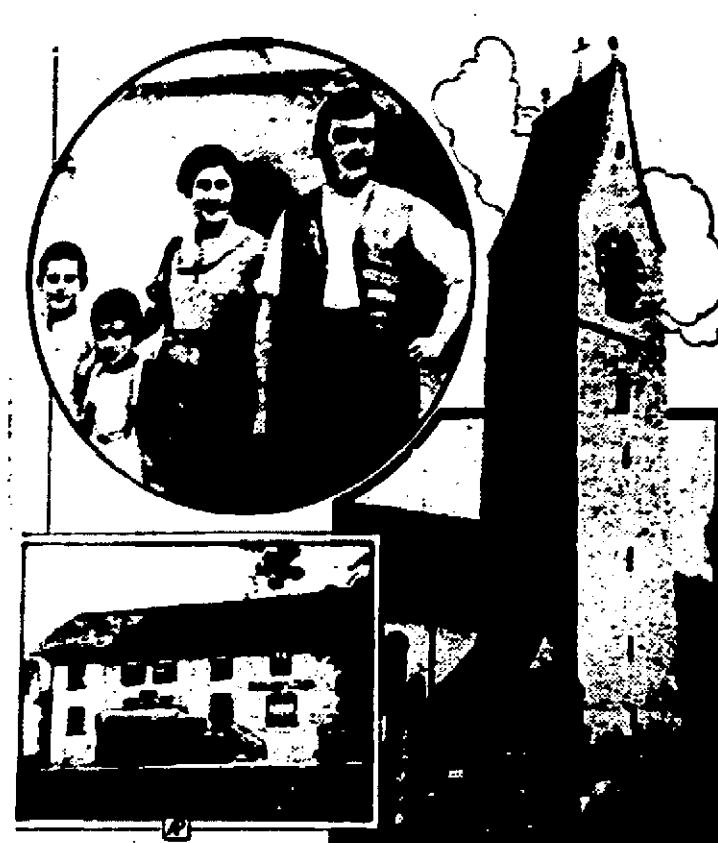

The other citizens of the commune (or county) are equally proud to claim him as a fellow-citizen under the Swiss law which would grant him civil rights even though his ancestors left Switzerland some 232 years ago.

And they have no intention of letting Fido Alto or West Branch, Ia., get all the credit for sponsoring an American president.

These good farmers, of rugged mountain stock, are so certain Mr. Hoover will sit in the White House another four years that they are drawing up a letter of congratulation which they expect to address, as they have letters in the past, "To The President of The United States."

Create "Huber Museum"

As proof that they have a claim on "Herbert Huber," as they call the President, all available evidence tending to show that the President's ancestors were natives of Oberkum is displayed on a wall in the Huber (Hoover) restaurant and general store, kept by Wirt Otto Huber, his wife and two sons, Jakob and Rudolph.

Citizens of Oberkum, Switzerland, point proudly to the Huber general store and restaurant (below) as the home of President Hoover's ancestors. The spotless building is now occupied by Wirt Otto Huber, his wife and two sons, Jakob and Rudolph (above). Archives supporting the village's claims are jealously guarded in a safe in the village church (right).

The restaurant is in what is supposed to have been the house from which the President's ancestors emigrated, about 1700, to Ellerstadt, Germany, whence they journeyed to America.

The Huber museum is on view to everyone who cares to refresh himself with a glass of cold beer. It contains photostatic copies of birth certificates, passenger list of the boat which took the first Huber across the Atlantic, and numerous photographs of houses inhabited by the Huber family.

In the center of the exhibit is a portrait of the President.

The birth certificates classify the early Hubers as bachelors and weavers. The present generation, through the reflected prestige of the White House, have become the aristocrats of the valley.

On Oberkum's Broadway.

The house in which President Hoover's ancestors are presumed to have lived is on the Broadway of Oberkum. It is surrounded by flower gardens and is kept up in the tidest Swiss fashion.

"Broadway" runs between the house and the barn, which look as if they were scrubbed twice daily.

Uterkum and Oberkum are villages a mile apart. Together, they give their name to the commune which consists of seventeen farming communities, each one of which has its mayor.

On Labor Day, Mrs. V. H. Winchell entertained the ladies of the City Home at her summer cottage in West Shokan, where a delightful lunch was served the guests, who were later taken for an automobile ride around the Ashokan reservoir. PETER RABBIT WORRIES

PETER RABBIT had a queer feeling inside. Yes, sir, he did. It wasn't a comfortable feeling. It was the feeling that he was going to see something dreadful happen, something which he couldn't stop, no matter how much he wanted to. You see from where he was sitting on the bank of the Laughing Brook below the Smiling Pool he looked right across to a big sandbank near the top of which was a hole which was the entrance to the home of Rattles the Kingfisher, and right down below him in the Laughing Brook was Billy Mink swimming straight across with his beady little eyes fixed on the doorway. He was swimming very fast, was Billy Mink, as if in a great hurry.

Peter guessed why Billy was in such a hurry. He guessed that Billy had guessed there were young kingfishers in that home in the sandbank, and that Billy, who has a liking for young birds, was in a hurry to get them for his dinner before Rattles, their father, should return from the Smiling Pool where he was fishing. Now Peter never harms anyone himself, and he cannot bear to think of anyone else being harmed, but he knows that Billy Mink cannot live on grass and vegetables and bark, as he can. So he knew that Billy was doing nothing wrong in trying to get a dinner of those young Kingfishers. He had been born a hunter, and he was simply obeying the natural instinct to fill his empty stomach. He was not breaking one of Old Mother Nature's laws. Billy Mink had simply been smart enough to do what Peter himself had done—find the home of Rattles the Kingfisher—and now it was for Rattles himself to protect his babies.

"Oh dear! Oh dear!" cried Peter.

Still Peter wished with all his might that he could do something to save those babies. If only Rattles would come back! He even thought of running with all his might up to the Smiling Pool and warning Rattles of the terrible danger which his babies were in, but he knew that by the time he could do this it would be too late. If only Rattles would return! Billy had reached the shore and was standing perfectly still listening and sniffing. He took a step forward. At that very instant the harsh voice of Rattles sounded up the Laughing Brook. Like a flash Billy Mink turned and dived. Peter ducked out of sight with a sigh of relief. Down the Laughing Brook came Rattles with a tiny fish and vanished in the hole in the sandbank. There was nothing to warn him that anyone had been near.

It wasn't long before he was out again and off for another fish. The instant he was out of sight Billy Mink was once more at the foot of the sandbank. Where he had come from Peter didn't know. You know there is a saying that Billy Mink can hide in his own shadow. This time he promptly began to scramble up the bank. It was clear that he wanted to get those babies and get away before Rattles returned. Peter wished that something would happen to stop Billy. How he did wish it! But nothing did, save that the sand was so loose that it kept slipping under Billy's feet, and he made slow work of climbing up to that hole.

But at last he reached it. He sniffed cautiously, and it seemed to Peter that he could almost see a smile of satisfaction cross Billy's sharp little brown face. Then Billy put his head inside and his body followed.

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" cried Peter. "Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" And big tears filled his eyes. But Peter wept too soon.

Book Not So "Bum-y"

The use of dried beans in this country shows a decided increase. If the production may be taken as a basis for estimating, in 1932, 7,000,000 bags of 100-pound weight were produced, while last year the total had jumped to 12,700,000 bags. Boston, famed as the city of the bean, is far down the list of consumers. Department of Agriculture statistics indicate.
